About the Public Service Commission:

From the PSC website (psc.ga.gov):

The Georgia Public Service Commission (PSC) has the exclusive power to determine fair and reasonable rates for most intrastate, investor-owned telecommunications, natural gas, and electric utilities services and pipeline safety regulations under its jurisdiction. As a result, the Commission’s decisions directly influence how much citizens will pay for such necessary services as their electricity, telephone, and natural gas. The Commission must also solve territorial disputes for municipally-owned gas companies, as well as ensure the safety of all natural gas pipelines in the state. The Commission does not set rates for municipally-owned electric and gas utilities or electric membership corporations (EMCs); however, municipally-owned electric companies and EMCs must come before the Commission on some matters such as financing and the resolution of territorial disputes. The five (5) Commissioners of the PSC are elected statewide and serve staggered six-year terms. The chairman is elected by the Commission for a two-year term with the opportunity to be re-elected for an additional two-year term. (This information is paraphrased; emphasis added).
